Company profile

City Building is one of Scotland's largest construction companies providing a range of repairs and maintenance, construction and refurbishment activities across the City and beyond.

We are committed to training and development and have an excellent track record of employment opportunities. We are currently training over 200 apprentices across all construction trades making us the largest employer of apprentices in Scotland. Our Training Academy at Queenslie is the most successful in Scotland with the highest completion rates. City Building deliver all aspects of the apprenticeship programme, a key factor in ensuring that the training and work experience is fully linked allowing apprentices to get the best from their apprenticeship.

The scope of work experience available to apprentices in City Building is second to none across the wide range of our workload. The Training Team at City Building work hard to ensure that you get best from your apprenticeship, to equip you with skills for life. We welcome applications for our vacancies from under-represented groups in the construction industry.
